

Moebius

Volume 8

Issue 1 Campus Controversy

Article 8

1-1-2010

Thoughts on Every College Party

Douglas Long

California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo

Follow this and additional works at: <http://digitalcommons.calpoly.edu/moebius>

Recommended Citation

Long, Douglas (2010) "Thoughts on Every College Party," Moebius: Vol. 8: Iss. 1, Article 8.

Available at: <http://digitalcommons.calpoly.edu/moebius/vol8/iss1/8>

This Prose is brought to you for free and open access by the College of Liberal Arts at DigitalCommons@CalPoly. It has been accepted for inclusion in Moebius by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@CalPoly. For more information, please contact mwyngard@calpoly.edu.

THOUGHTS ON EVERY COLLEGE PARTY

Douglas Long

I've been to every college party ever thrown.

There is beer. There are shots. Everyone crams into the kitchen for no god-damned reason. People yell. People fight. People flirt.

Seemingly deep relationships are created and destroyed over the course of an evening. Insecurities are worn on the sleeves of those who wish they could face them in the light of a sober day. Tons of bullshit philosophy is spit into the night sky as things are smoked and the future is feared.

People need this setting. We need to be packed into shitty apartments in the middle of nowhere to feel that sense of belonging. We need to feel like we're not alone in our need to yell and dance and awkwardly flirt our way out of anxiety. ☹